Sounds like an option to me....I'll research that topic and see what I can find in our library and if need be, Georgia Tech's library. There is a whole selection of types of mags we could pull from. What would be great is if we found that 3V was subscribing to the FR.

I'll let you know what I find for that date range and search....

p.s.

the library will be able to do the literature search for me and come up with a list of periodicals which carry said search criteria.
